5. §102(b) rejection on claims 1-29 under Olsen. More particularly, as to claim 1, Olsen does not appear to disclose "a plurality of video displays, each video display being adapted to display a video presentation." Olsen discloses only a single video display.

While segments of a video presentation can be displayed in different portions of the video display, nothing is disclosed that would allow a single integrated video presentation to be displayed on a plurality of video displays.

6. Patentability of claims 2-29 and the new claims over Olsen based on the arguments similar to the arguments above.
